

Meet me in the Middle

Where North meets South, Cuba meets Greece, and friendship meets creativity

Story

What happens when two friends from different bars and cities, but with the same passion for creativity and bartending, come together?

They merge ideas, blending influences to craft a concept that finds harmony between them. That's how Meet Me in the Middle was born. More than a cocktail, it's a reflection of collaboration, friendship, and fusion. Just as we come from the north and south of Greece, its ingredients unite the north and south of both Cuba and Greece.

About

The Tropical Soda blends Coconut from northern Cuba, known for its refined flavors, with Plantain from the south, a humble yet essential ingredient.

The Bougatsa Cream and Fig Cordial fuses Bougatsa cream from northern Greece—a nod to tradition—with Fig from the south, a symbol of hospitality and nature's sweetness. At its heart lies Havana Club, representing community and celebration.

Meet Me in the Middle is a tribute to the bonds we form, proving that when paths cross, something special is created
